

Product Update: Vibby Fall Detector

Vibby Firmware Upgrade

We have been advised by the manufacturer of the Vibby fall detector that in accordance with their continual product development they have made some enhancements to the Vibby device and have up issued the product code. We have therefore updated our systems and the product code 67605/24 should be used when placing future orders.

There are no physical changes to the product other than the label on the back of the device, the label shows the new part number and issue. To identify which Vibby fall detectors you may have in stock, please refer to the images below.
